POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN BANKING MANAGEMENT

About the Programme

The Postgraduate Diploma in Banking Management (PGDBM) at the Bank of Tanzania Academy is a nine-month, part-time programme designed for professionals in the banking sector.

Delivered in evening classes at the Bank of Tanzania Sub-Head Office in Dar-es-Salaam, this programme focuses on practical skills through a competency-based approach, covering areas like risk management, regulatory compliance, financial analysis, and strategic banking operations.

It's part-time structure allows working professionals to balance their careers with advanced education.

The Academy's affiliation with the central bank enhances the programme's credibility, providing participants with valuable insights into regulatory practices and economic contexts while offering networking opportunities with industry experts.

Programme Structure

The programme is delivered on a block basis, whereas each module is covered in fifteen days.

The planned modules provide a range of basic skills, knowledge and principles appropriate for a graduate in the field of banking.

They represent the main areas of activity in the respective disciplines, and the in-depth treatment of them will enable a graduate to rapidly become aware of conceptual issues, as well as acquire competencies and skills in banking management.
